THE PRESIDENT IN THE NORTH.

His Reception in Boston—Grand Masonic Display—The Enthusiasm; Decorations, &c.

All accounts agree that the President's reception and treatment in Boston was one of the grandest ovations ever tendered to any of the nation's rulers by that community. Whatever else Boston may lack, it never wants courtesy and respect when courtesy and consideration are due. The parade and Masonic ceremonies of Monday were on the largest scale, and the day was kept by the people of the city and surrounding country as a holiday.—Commencing at 8 A. M. to form, it was not until after 5 P. M. that the Masons completed their line of march and reached Boston Music Hall, where the ovation and other ceremonies took place. The dedication ceremonies commenced at 9 o'clock, and in these none excepting Masons participated. The President of the United States, Postmaster General Randall, Major General Rousseau, and Surgeon Basil Norris were present at this interesting service, they being members of the fraternity, and wearing appropriate regalia. The procession consisted of eighteen divisions, and was commanded by William D. Stratton Grand Marshall. In addition to Encampments of the State, there were Encampments from Rhode Island, New York, New Hampshire, Maine, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and District of Columbia, together with Knights from other States. The Lodges of the State were joined by St. John's Lodge, of New York, instituted in 1721. It carried its old Washington Bible upon which George Washington took his oath of office as first President of the United States, it having been administered by Chancellor Robert Livingston. The Bible was escorted by a special guard of Knghts, and was carried by Henry Glaser, of New York. Lodges from Maine, Illinois, New York, and the city of Washington, and other cities and States, were in line with a strong representation of various organizations in England and the British Provinces.

It is thought 10,000 Masons were in the procession. The dress of members of different lodges was strictly uniform, as was also that of the Knights of the several commanderies, and this circumstance elicited the admiration of the spectators and rendered more attractive the appearance of the procession. Some of the Knights were on horseback, and a few rode in open carriages. All encampments and lodges carried banners designating their names and localities and a number of national flags were prominent in the briliant display. Crowds lined the streets, and many houses displayed flags and banners.

Some of the decorations were of a gorgeous character, including arches across the street, formed by streamers from the windows. A large groined arch, trimmed with national emblems and surmounted by an allegorical representation of Hope, fringed with flags, greeted the eye, and added to the effect of the display.

The President's coach was drawn by six chestnut colored horses, and flanked by a guard of honor of the Boston Encampment Knights Templar, numbering twenty-four, armed with gold-beaded spears. All along the route the President was cheered by the men, while the ladies in the windows and balconies waved their handkerchiefs.

The President stood much of the time, bowing with hat in hand in acknowledment of these compliments. Bouquets were occasionally thrown into the carriage, and the fact that he caught in his hand a large bunch of flowers thrown by a young lady from a window elicited renewed applause. Holding the bouquet toward the fair donor, he made a low bow. There was much enthusiasm everywhere exhibited.—Many words of compliment were loudly uttered, and the only allusion to politics heard was the exclamation, "No impeachment."

The coach halted repeatedly to enable mothers to present their little children to the notice of the President. He gave them kind words, and more than once availed himself of the opportunity of a kiss. Bostonians says that never before was there a time when politics were so successfully excluded from a public demonstration in honor of a public man, and many are glad to have the President among them in order that they may express their respect for him as the Chief Magistrate and as a fellow-citizen, irrespective of the issues which disturb the country.

In the evening a grand bouquet was given in the Egyptian Saloon of the new Masonic Temple, at which the President was the honored guest. In response to a toast, Mr. Johnson spoke at some length, his remarks being frequently interrupted with applause.—After the banquet the President was escorted back to the Tremont House, where he was met by ex-President Pierce, who had just arrived from New Hampshire, especially to pay his respects to him.

A SAD TALE.—A St. Louis correspondent says: "A year ago, the daughter of one of our wealthy Main street men married a clerk on $2,000 a year, against her father's will. The honeymoon bliss was scarcely done, and the battle of life really begun, when she found that her husband was not all that her fond imagination had pictured him to be, nor wedded bliss so rosy as she had dreamed. She told her mother she would like to come back to her home, and her mother pressed her to do so; but her father made of stonier material, did not come into the arrangement so easily. Leaving the following note on her husband's table, repaired to her paternal hearth-stone:

'I have gone home to my father.—Farewell. Be happy. MARY.'

"Home that was, alas! she went to; but icy glances and rude rebuffs were all the greetings she received. She could not live here, and receiving no intelligence from her husband, she started out for herself. Rent day soon came round, and having no means, she repaired to her father, and implored him for money, and begged for enough to start herself in business so she could earn a livelihood. He refused, and she said, 'Where shall I go, father?' He replied, 'I don't care. Go to h—ll, if you will.' In her desperation she said, 'I will, father, and hold you responsible.'

"Rushing from her home, she soon met a gay young man about town, told her tale, and said, 'she was ready for anything.' He made an appointment with her at a well known assignation house on Washington avenue, and she poor creature, has commenced to be numbered among those whose footfalls patter over the ashes of hell."

THE VIOLET.—Those who wish to cultivate the violet in their gardens will do well to avail themselves of the following hints concerning this charming little flower. There are more than twenty species, those most esteemed for fragrance being merely varieties of the sweet violet of the botanist, or, as it is better known, the English violet. Many of the varieties will flower at any season of the year, if the conditions are favorable. They require cool weather and rather shaded, moist situations. They flower in the spring and fall, and can easily be kept in bloom from October till the end of May, by the simple help of a cold pit, well protected in winter. For this purpose they must be grown in some moist spot during the summer, and transplanted to the pit in October, the only additional care necessary being to shelter them from actual frost, and to admit the rays of the sun whenever it can be done without letting in the frost also. By this simple method we may have these deliciously fragrant flowers around us the whole year. Those who choose to try it will find it an excellent plan, and will be amply repaid for their trouble. Violets may also be potted and placed in the green-house, care being taken to keep them in the coolest parts, and as near the glass as possible.

RED CLOUD, THE INDIAN LEADER.—Speaking of the fourthcoming war on the plains, the Reese River Reveille says: The great leader of the Indians is Red Cloud, or Mahpilatan, who is represented as one of the ablest Indian warriors of any time. He is about thirty five years of age, tall, handsome, athletic, and as perfect in his horsemanship as in his physical appearance. He has commanded in several battles previous to the massacre of Col. Fetterman's command, and has never been whipped. He was at Laramie last spring, at the treaty making, enjoying the farce and treating it as such without disguise, yet accepting all the presents offered, but left with the declaration that his country should never be occupied by the whites, nor garrisoned by them, nor should their roads cross it. Then he was at the head of about 320 warriors of the Ogaiallah Sioux, but his marshalling 3,000 at Fort Philip Kearney shows the influence he has over others, and his determination to make his threat good. He is an active energetic, and able warrior, and he who conquers Red Cloud will do more than he who conquered Tecumseh, or Black Hawk, or Osceola.

PHILOSOPHERS say that shutting the eyes makes the sense of hearing more acute. A wag suggests that this accounts for the many closed eyes that are seen at church on Sunday.

THE FALL OF QUERETARO AND CAPTURE OF MAXIMILIAN.

A special correspondent who was on the ground, gives the following account of the fall of Queretaro and the capture of Maximilian:

The convent of La Cruz, formed the key to the city, and many lives have been lost in attacking and defending it. Maximilian had his headquarters in the building. Escobedo's best infantry occupied the valley between the convent and the mountain.

The Cruz had been sold. Colonel Lopez was Commander of the Cruz and he it was who betrayed the city to the enemy. Just when the liberal Commander-in-Chief had given his orders for attack, Lopez sent him a letter offering for money—variously stated at sums ranging from 800 to 3,000 ounces—to deliver up the Cruz to the liberals. The offer, whatever it might be, was promptly accepted.—Under cover of the darkness Escobedo and Corona moved their forces up under the very walls of the Cruz. Then Lopez, commanding his own troops to lay down their arms, quietly marched them out at one door as prisoners, while the Liberal troops marched in at the other and took their places. Thus remained the Cruz all night garrisoned by liberal soldiers, Maximilian placidly sleeping and dreaming of no harm.

The Emperor, an incorrigibly early riser, was one of the first to find out something was wrong. Hastily waking Prince Salm-Salm, he exclaimed, "Come along, quick!" and made for the door. But here a file of liberal soldiers were awaiting him. As the ill-starred Prince passed on his way out, Lopez, in a hoarse whisper, exclaimed, "That's he," and urged Rincon to secure him at once. Then occurred one of the most singular incidents in the whole of this singular war. Colonel Rincon a brave soldier, would have rejoiced to have captured the Austrian Archduke in a fair fight; but he had little relish for his present work or for the treason that had brought it about.—Giving away to a sudden impulse of generosity, he went up to Max, and said:—"You are a citizen; you are no soldier; we don't want you—vamos!" and so saying, pushed the astonished Emperor out of the convent. Five minutes afterwards I met him, still looking utterly dazzled, but making his way on foot as hard as he could for the Cerro de Campana, at the other extremity of the city.

Thus far few shots had been fired. Corona, always swift in his movements, entering by the Cruz, had taken posession of the whole of the imperial lines from the inside, the troops at his approach dropping their guns and shouting "Vive la Libertad!" But Miramon was not disposed so tamely to submit. Rallying a portion of a regiment whom he encountered in the Callo de Capuchinas—one of the broadest streets in the city—he formed them in line of battle and prepared to defend himself to the last. One of the first shots fired struck Miramon in the face and lodged under the left eye, blinding him for the time being. A citizen surgeon, whose house was near, attempted to extract the bullet, but in the excitement of the moment only made it worse, and before Miramon could recover himself he and his whole troop were surrounded and taken prisoners. Meanwhile Maximilian had been joined at the Cerro de la Campana, or Bell Height—a fortified hill commanding the other extremities of the city—by General Mejia, Castillo and Avellano, and Prince Salm-Salm and others of his officers, but it was quickly evident that resistance or escape was equally impossible. Four battalions of infantry and nearly the whole of the liberal cavalry surrounded the hill. A large white flag was accordingly sent down from the Cerro, and the Emperor, with his principal officers, surrendered unconditionally to Gene al Corona.

A GOOD JOKE.—Many years ago, when church organs first came in use, a worthy old clergyman was pastor of a church where they had just purchased an organ. Not far from the church was a large town pasture, where a great many cattle grazed, and among them a large bull. One hot Sabbath, Mr. Bull came up near the church grazing, and just as the Rev. Mr. B——was in the midst of his sermon—"boo-woo-woo," went the bull.

The parson paused, looked up at the singing seats, and, with a grave face, said:

"I would thank the musicians not to tune their instruments during service; it annoys me very much."

The people stared, and the minister went on.

"Boo-woo-woo," went the bull again, as he drew a little nearer the church.

The parson paused again and addressed the choir.

"I really wish the singers would not tune their instruments while I am preaching."

The congregation tittered, for they knew what the real cause of this disturbance was.

The old parson went on again, and he had just about started good, when "Boo-woo-woo" came from Mr. Bull.

The minister paused once more and exclaimed:

"I have requested the musicians in the gallery not to tune their instruments during the sermon. I now particularly request Mr. L—that he will not tune his double base organ while I am preaching."

This was too much. L—got up, too much agitated at the idea of speaking out in church, and stammered out:

"It is—isn't me, Parson—; it—it is that d—d town bull."

RUSKIN ON JUDAS.

John Ruskin, in the Crown of Wild Olives, characterizes in his trenchant style, those money as who like to make imitators of Judas:

"We do great injustice to Iscariot, in thinking him wicked above all common wickedness. He was only a common money-lover, and like all money-loveas didn't understand Christ; couldn't make out the worth of him. He didn't want him to be killed. He was horror struck when he found that Christ would be killed; threw his money away instantly, and hanged himself. How many of our present money-seekers, think you, would have the grace to hang themselves, whoever they killed? But Judas was a common, selfish, muddle-headed, pilfering fellow; his hand always in the bag of the poor, not caring for them. He didn't understand Christ, yet believed in him much more than most of us do; had seen him do miracles, thought he was quite strong enough to shift for himself, and he, Judas, might as well make his own little bye-perquisites out of the affair. Christ would come out of it well enough, and he have thirty pieces. Now that is the money-seeker's idea, all over the world. He doesn't hate Christ, but can't understand him—he doesn't care for him—sees no good in that benevolent business; makes his own little job out of it, at all events, come what will. And thus, out of every mass of men—your 'free first' men, whose main object is to make money. And they make it—make it in all sorts of unfair ways, chiefly by the weight and force of money, or what is called the power of capital; that is to say, the power which money, once obtained, has over the labor of the poor, so that the capitalist can take all its produce to himself except the laborer's food. That is the modern Judas' way of 'carrying the bag' and 'bearing what is put therein.'"

CURE FOR TOBACCO CHEWING.—A friend gives the following peculiar case of tobacco chewing and its cure: A gentleman in this vicinity was excessively fond of the weed. A whole paper made just three "quids" for him. His better half was a neat woman. She disliked tobacco, and especially did she dislike the appearance of a pile of "old soldiers" back of a fire-board, where the gentleman was in the habit of throwing them. They were ugly looking customers, large and nasty. The gentleman himself was otherwise neat, and took pleasure in spending his evenings in his well-furnished parlor.

His lady finally determined to make the "old soldiers" in the corner as odious to him as possible, and the next day she gathered them all together, and added all the outsiders; she had no difficulty in getting enough, as the gentleman not only chewed large 'cuds' but changed them often. She placed them in conspicuous places on the beautiful Brussels carpet; in the centre of the room she placed a "king pile," composed of five of the largest and coarsest. Around stood on end the sentinels in regular order. The whole were made to the best advantage, and they really did themselves credit. They stood up on end in full proportions.

At dark, the gas-lights were brilliantly burning, and shortly after the gentleman came in. He stopped short, and at first commenced some hard epithets, then he burst into loud laughter, and his wife came in to see what the matter was. "Who did this?" said he; "who put these nasty things here? they'll ruin your carpet;" and he rang for the servant to clear them away, when his wife interposed, "these things came directly from your mouth," said she. "Are they nasty? will they spoil the carpet?" And then looking at him sharply, she added, "if these things are fit to be held in my husband's mouth for hours, they are certainly no disgrace to lie upon the carpet which we tread upon."

"Just so," said the husband, and for some reason he has not had any tobacco in his mouth since that time.

POWER OF HUMBUG.—An individual owned a small tavern near the field of Waterloo, the scene of the last great action of Napoleon, and was frequently questioned as to whether he did not possess some relics of the battle, and he as invariably and honestly answered in the negative.

He was very poor, and one day, while lamenting to a neighbor not only his poverty but the annoyance to which travelers subjected him, his friend cut him short with:

"Well, make one help the other. Make some relics!"

"But what can I do?" inquired the poor man.

"Tell them that Napoleon or Wellington entered your shop during the battle and sat on that chair."

Not long after an English tourist entered the tavern, and inquiring for relics was told the chair story. The next comer was told that Wellington had taken a drink, and the Wellington tumbler was accordingly sold. The third gazed with breathless wonder on the nail on which Bonaparte hung his hat. The fourth purchased the door posts between which he entered, and the fifth became the happy possessor of the floor upon which Napoleon had trodden.

At last advices, the fortunate tavern-keeper had not a roof to cover his head, and was sitting on a bag of gold in the center of a deep pit, formed by selling the earth upon which the house stood.

LIME ON ORCHARDS.

The value of lime for many purposes in agriculture is no longer a theoretical question, but an admitted fact. On orchards its effects have been surprising—and such indeed as to surprise the most incredulous. For many uses, lime in the stone is preferable, if it is of a character that admits of its being reduced to a condition sufficiently fine for its application, for it then contains about fifty per cent, of carbon, a principle which enters largely into vegetables. Calcination, or burning, drives off the carbon, and renders caustic lime mild. In its freshly slacked state, its application is, in most cases, attended with disadvantages as its causticity proves harmful in many ways. In regard to the application of lime on orchards, it may be remarked that the fall is perhaps as favorable a season, on many accounts as can be selected. Its effects are slow and lasting, and when spread on orchard ground in August, or even in September or October, it will be felt the following year; whereas, if applied in the spring, no advantage will accrue till the subsequent year, which would be a dead loss to the owner of one year's use of the pecuniary capital involved in the outlay of the experiment. In some cases, the favorable effects of lime have been clearly apparent for twenty years.

Old lime from the walls of buildings is an excellent stimulant for fruit trees of all kinds; it acts immediately, and it acts long. In one case a farmer who was engaged in repairing his dwelling, ordered a portion of the old plastering, taken from the walls of one of his rooms, to be thrown from a window, where it was accidentally brought in contact with a plum tree which had always been unproductive, and a mere, "cumberer of the ground." The subsequent year, however, it was filled with fruit. This change was owing to the lime, doubtless, as similar results have followed its application in various, indeed, in innumerable, cases of a like character. We advise every person, therefore, who is the owner of an old and decayed orchard to lose no time in giving each tree a dressing of lime, or, better still, if he can procure it, of old plaster. A peck to a tree of middling size, and a half a bushel to a large one, is sufficient, according to the experience of many; but though we would by all means recommend the application of even these small quantities, when larger quantities cannot be procured, yet we would sooner advise a bushel and a half. We have no more faith in starving a tree or a hill of corn than we have in starving an ox or a horse. The "penny wise and pound foolish" policy, adopted by so many, is a bad one for the farmer.—It always results in loss.—Cor. Germantown Telegraph.

FARMER'S CORN PUDDING.—Set on the fire a large pot of water, which must boil hard by the time the pudding is mixed. Put one quart of milk by itself into a saucepan, and give it a boil; when it has come to a boil, pour it into a deep pan and stir in it a pint of molasses, then add by degrees three pints of Indian meal, and lastly a teaspoonful of ground cinnamon or ginger; have ready a pudding bag, dip it into boiling water, shake it out, then pour the batter into the bag, tie firmly, leaving about one-third vacant, as it requires room to swell; put the bag into the large pot of boiling water, cover it closely, and let it boil steadily for at least three hours, four will not be too long. While boiling it should be turned frequently; as the water boils away, replenish it with more water kept boiling for this purpose in another kettle; on no account put in cold water, as that will render the pudding heavy. Turn it out of the bag immediately before it goes to the table, and eat with butter and molasses. It will be found excellent.

FLOWERS.—How the universal heart of man blesses flowers! They are wreathed around the cradle, the marriage altar, and the tomb. The Persian in the far East delights in their perfume, and writes his loves in nosegays. While the Indian child of the great West claps his hands with glee as he gathers the abundant blossoms—the illuminated scriptures of the prairies. The Cupid of the ancient Hindoos tipped his arrows with flowers, and orange buds are the bridle crown with us, a nation of yesterday. Flowers garlanded the Grecian altar, and they hang in votive wreaths before the Christians shrine. All these are appropriate uses. Flowers should deck the brow of the youthful bride, for they are in themselves a lovely type of marriage. They should twine round the tomb, for their perpetually renewed beauty is a symbol of the resurrection. They should festoon the altar, for their fragrance and their beauty ascend in perpetual worship before the Most High.

VEAL CAKE.—Boil six or eight eggs hard; cut the yolks in two, and lay some of the pieces in the bottom of the pot; shake in a little chopped parsley; some slices of veal and ham, and then eggs again; shaking in after each some chopped parsley, with pepper and salt, till the pot is full; then put it in water enough to cover it, and lay on it about an ounce of butter; tie it over with a double paper, and bake it about an hour; then press it down together with a spoon, and let it stand till cold. It may be put into a small mould, and then it will turn out beautifully for a supper or side-dish.

NEVER chew your words. Open the month and let the voice come out. A student once asked "Can virchue, fortichude, gratichude, or quietchude, dwell with that man who is a stranger to rectichude!" The words here are badly chude.

—It is not a little remarkable that Charleston, the head and front of the whole secession movement, is to-day a pattern of morality, peace and quietness.

Democratic State Ticket.

FOR JUDGE OF THE SUPREME COURT,
HON. GEORGE SHARSWOOD, OF PHILADELPHIA.

Democratic County Ticket.

FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY,
E. F. KERR, of Bedford Borough.
FOR TREASURER,
ISAAC MENGEL, of Bedford Bor.
FOR COMMISSIONER,
P. M. BARTON, of E. Providence.
FOR POOR DIRECTOR,
JOHN I. NOBLE, of S. Woodberry.
FOR AUDITOR,
SAMUEL WHIP, of Cumb. Valley.

RADICAL B. H. CONVENTION.

The Fourth of July was desecrated by a meeting of Greely's "Blockheads," in the Court House, in this place, to nominate a "ticket," and to let the B. H. brethren of this Congressional district know that the firm of J. B. C. & Bro. are running the Radical machine in this county,—especially the latter. The "Ticket" is composed as follows: District Attorney, M. A. Points; Treasurer, John R. Jordan; Commissioner, Wm. Karns, Poor Director, Adam Ullery, Auditor,——Swartz. These are respectable gentlemen, but not a whit more so than the candidates on the Democratic ticket. Mr. Karns and Mr. Ullery have not had the experience in business possessed by Mr. Barton and Mr. Noble, their Democratic opponents, and are not, in any particular, so well qualified for the offices for which they are named, as the latter. The head of the ticket, Mr. Points, is a Copperhead, of 1863-4, and the tail end, Mr. Swartz, is an estimable young gentleman who voted for Hiester Clymer last year. The nomination of Mr. Swartz was intended to buy him back into the Radical organization. We don't think he can be bought so cheap. But, of course, the "ticket" was put up only to be knocked down, and we suppose the candidates on it can stand that operation about as well as any body else. The election of the Democratic county ticket is a foregone conclusion. The fight in this neck of the woods, will be for the members of the Legislature. Let Democrats organize for the election of reform candidates, and the district will be redeemed.

WOODEN NUTMEGS ON THE BENCH.

The Radical State Convention met at Williamsport, on the 26th inst., and nominated H. W. Williams, of Pittsburg, formerly of Connecticut, as their candidate for Supreme Judge. Judge Linn, Judge Pearson, Judge Taylor, and other native Pennsylvanians, better jurists, all of them, than Williams, were thrust aside in order to toady to New England. The people of Pennsylvania are presented by the Democrats, with a candidate who is the pride and boast of the legal profession of the State, whilst, on the other hand, the Radicals ask them to support a wooden nutmeg Yankee, whose obscurity is his only recommendation as a candidate.

Where is the Pennsylvanian who would not vote for George Sharswood in preference to H. W. Williams?

ANOTHER STATE OUT OF THE UNION.

The State of Kentucky is refused representation in Congress. The whole delegation is Democratic; hence its exclusion by the Radicals. One of these Kentucky Congressmen was a Major in the Union army during the war, and another was a member of the last Congress; yet they are both excluded from the seats to which they were elected by large majorities. If this high-handed tyranny on the part of the Radicals, does not soon have an end, the people of the United States will have to resort to arms to recover their lost rights. It is all that is left them.

RUMP B. H. CONGRESS.

We are afflicted, during the heated term, with a session of Congress. The Radical "Blockheads" failed, last winter, to make their "reconstruction" laws strong enough to secure the total Africanization of the South. Hence they meet to revise their work. What do the people think of such legislative butchery, anyhow?

THE Bedford Inquirer remarks that the Democratic Convention "must have had the public funds in view," when they appointed Mr. Mardorff Chairman of the County Committee. Mr. Mardorff says that one of the editors of the Inquirer "must have had the public funds in view," some time ago, when he asked him (Mardorff) to lend him some of the County's money to pay off his (the editor's) Tax Duplicate.

THE testimony for the United States in the Surratt case has been concluded. The defence state that they will disprove the important parts of it and establish the innocence of Surratt and his mother. We shall see.

J. B. C. & BRO.

The delegate from this county to the Radical State Convention, recently held at Williamsport, was J. B. Cessna, Esq. Mr. C. was elected by the County Committee, of which he is chairman. A member of the committee informs us that Mr. C. owes his election to the vote of—the chairman! This was well done, for J. B. It was a finely conceived and neatly executed coup d'etat. Encouraged by his success, our young friend determined to achieve still greater honors. He had elected himself a delegate, why should he not elect others also? A bright idea strikes him! He will elect his brother John to represent Fulton county. He "mentions the thing" to "Dad," and the latter likes it first rate. So J. B. elects "Dad" for Fulton county, and this legislative district is represented at Williamsport, by J. B. Cessna & Bro. The day of the Convention arrives and with it a peck of troubles to J. B. He had resolutions to fix up, Judge Taylor's interests were entrusted exclusively to his championship, and he had to take care of the verdant delegate from Fulton. Everything, however, passed off swimmingly, until the Convention assembled, when J. B. found it impossible to keep his fidgetty brother quiet. "Dad" was the first man on the floor and the last one to leave it. But, owing to the prudence of J. B., sundry resolutions and a cut-and-dry speech covering twenty-four sheets of fools-cap, did not get out of the coat-pockets of the irrepressible "Dad." Nevertheless, toward the close of the Convention, the latter found himself in an ugly snarl, he having offered a resolution that the Convention proceed to the election of a Chairman of the State Committee, expecting, of course, that, as the mover of the resolution, he would be selected to fill the position. The friends of Mr. Jordan saw the "drift of the thing," and at once took "Dad" by the neck. It was in this awful emergency that his guardian angel, the prudent and sapient J. B., came to the rescue of his brother, and suggested to him to modify his resolution so that Mr. Jordan should be elected chairman, but that if Jordan did not accept, then somebody else should be the man. "Dad" availed himself of the suggestion, wriggled out of the dilemma, and, we are told, immediately took the cars for home. Let "Republicans" decide which of the firm of J. B. Cessna and Bro., was the more useful man in their Convention, J. B., or "Dad."

NEWSPAPERIAL.

The Clinton Democrat has been greatly enlarged and improved, and is now printed on a power press.—The Doylestown Democrat has donned a suit of new type and looks as bright as a silver dollar, if any of our readers know what that is like.—The Somerset Democrat has been sold by V. Hay, Esq., to John J. Hoffman, Esq. Mr. Hoffman is a young man of ability and will make the Democrat a strong paper.—The Genius of Liberty office is for sale. It is one of the best offices in Western Pennsylvania.

MAXIMILIAN SHOT!

JUAREZ has permitted Prince MAXIMILIAN to be shot. It is also rumored that Santa Ana, Ex-Dictator of Mexico, who had recently returned to that country, was shot by order of Juarez. If such barbarism be Republicanism in Mexico, the less there is of it, the better.

PHIL SHERIDAN—"noble Phil. Sheridan"—"gallant Phil. Sheridan"—who burned the dwelling houses in the Shenandoah Valley and who now fights unarmed and defenceless people in Louisiana,—has backed down from his elevated position, and ordered the time for registration to be extended, in accordance with the directions of the President.

Johnson, we verily believe, would pardon the Devil, if he had a chance. —Lewistown Gazette.

Never mind! The "Republicans" will ask him to do it, some day, as they did in the case of those other rebellious spirits, Longstreet & Co., and we don't see why you should complain, Mr. Gazette, for, if the head Devil be pardoned, the little fiends will be all right, of course.

THE Pennsylvania Steel Works at Harrisburg, have gone into operation.—Ex.

The Pennsylvania Steal Works at Harrisburg, have been in operation ever since Radicalism obtained possession of the State Government.

J. B. SANSOM, ESQ., the talented editor of the Indiana Democrat, is at present on a visit to his friends in this place. Long may he flourish.

JUDGE J. M. WAYNE of the U. S. Supreme Court, died in Washington city, a few days ago. He was appointed to the Supreme Bench, by President Jackson.

THE Republican Convention of Maine have nominated Joshua L. Chamberlain for Governor.

SHORTS---POLITICAL AND PERSONAL.

GREELY the man who bailed Jeff. Davis and who shamelessly calls "Republicans" "blockheads"—says, "Mr. Secretary Stanton belongs to the class that rarely die and never resign. As to his political sympathies, they can be expressed by saying that there are three parties in the country now,—the Democrats, the Republicans and Mr. Stanton."

THE Radicals think the legislation of Congress will make the negro just what he should be. They have no doubt that it will change his wool to Hyperian curls, that it will give him a Roman or Grecian nose, that it will shorten his heel, scoop out a hollow in his foot, and impart to him the odor of "the balm of a thousand flowers." —Prentice.

GOING down street the other day we overheard the following colloquy between two "American citizens of African descent:" "See heah, Sam! who's goin' to make de greatest stir in de new Congress?" "De greatest stir, Julius? Why, Gen. Butler, I spects." "Why so, Sam?" "Why, Julius, you see he's got de spoons to do it with!"—Ex.

THE first article in the Phrenological Journal, for July, is entitled "Man, Monkeys and Gorillas;" and the next, "Hon. S. P. Chase." A cotemporary prints it thus: The Phrenological Journal, for July, contains "Man, Monkeys, and Gorillas, S. P. Chase," &c.

THE campaign being about to open, it is time for our opponents to re-introduce the slang-term "Copperhead." Greely's "blockheads" should begin the use of the word at once, or they will get "behind time."

THE following is the State ticket nominated by the Democratic Convention of Vermont: For Governor, J. L. Edwards, for Lieutenant Governor, Waldo Brigham, for Treasurer, J. H. Williams.

HON. L. W. POWELL, formerly Governor of Kentucky and U. S. Senator from that State, died a few days ago. He was one of the ablest men in the State.

THE Democrats of the Jefferson district, have renominated Hon. W. P. Jenks for member of the Legislature. Mr. Jenks is one of the best lawyers and purest men in the State.

HON. CHARLES DENNISON, member of Congress from the Twelfth Pennsylvania District, died on Thursday of last week.

GEARY has become a Good Templar. We would like to hear of his becoming a good Governor.

JUDGE SHARSWOOD.

On every side the Radical press is complimenting Judge Sharswood, the Democratic nominee for Supreme Judge. He is so good a man and able a Judge, that they cannot help saying kind things about him. The Pittsburg Gazette, an extreme Radical paper says:

"In nominating Judge Sharswood as their candidate for the Supreme bench, the Democrats have made a wise selection, for themselves during the progress of the canvass, and for the people of the whole Commonwealth in case he shall be elected. He is as suitable a man for the place as could be brought forward. Naturally of sound and discriminating judgment, his faculties have been matured by thorough study and large, varied experience. His reputation as a man is unblemished. Indeed, he is a consistent and honored office-bearer in the Presbyterian Church. As a magistrate a suspicion of unfairness or partiality has never been raised against him."

The Sunday Dispatch of the same political persuasion, says:

"No better lawyer than the Hon. Geo. Sharswood can be found in Pennsylvania. As a Judge he has had ample experience, and has conducted himself in all things with purity, impartiality and industry. His knowledge of the law is extensive. His long practice has cast a mind, originally of a judicial bent, into a firm and enduring mould. His judgment is strong, his perceptions acute and his desire to do justice is in all cases transparent. He has as little of the weakness of favoritism or of the fault of dislike as any man; and in his long career upon the bench of the District Court of this city there has been nothing to show that he ever allowed his private opinions to influence his judgment or to color his views of a case. We believe him to be most admirably fitted for the position for which he has been named, by personal integrity, deep learning, and the possession of the analytical ability which compares principles with facts and applies to circumstances the fitting legal consequences. The citizens of Philadelphia will be well satisfied with the nomination of Judge Sharswood, and he will have a handsome support from independent voters of all parties."

The Bucks County Intelligencer (Radical) pays him the following compliment:

"To Judge Sharswood, so far as we know, there can be no personal or professional objection. His reputation, gained by long and faithful services upon the bench, is unspotted."

—An egg in perfect preservation, is reported to have been found 28 feet under the earth at a brewery in Albany.

For the Gazette.

PRINCE MAXIMILIAN, EMPEROR OF MEXICO.

This ill-starred adventurer, this victim of Napoleon's policy, a Prince allied to the proudest houses of Europe—England, Belgium, Austria—has fallen under the bloody laws of that full blooded Indian, Juarez, the pet of Secretary Seward. This Machiavel Secretary of State wrote two ways. First, he wrote despatches to Juarez, "to save Maximilian." Afterwards, he told Romero—Juarez' ambassador—"that he did not care whether Maximilian was shot or not," thus nullifying his former despatch. There is no excuse for the blood-thirsty Juarez and his tiger-general, Escobedo, in executing Maximilian. There is less excuse for Seward—the double-faced Seward—the ringer of "the little bell," who from his office arrested, and sent to prison, or death, from North, or South, all obnoxious characters, all opposed to him, the Robespierre of America. From authentic statements, Maximilian was an admirer of American institutions and people. If left alone, if unopposed by the weight of foreign influence, or the Seward line of policy, he would, most probably, have secured to Mexico as good a government, as they are destined to have at the hands of Juarez and Escobedo, the bloody executioners of their noble opponent, generals. He would have been the friend of the United States, and, after his benign rule, Mexico would have been merged in the best, nay the model, of Republics.

Who can wish for this Indo-Negro, this hybrid race—any other fate but that it should be annexed to the superior one. It is to be hoped, in the cause of civilization, that this mongrel people of Spaniard, Indian and Negro blood, will be very soon absorbed by the superior people of the United States. It is thus, and only thus, that we may expect that these half Mexican savages will emerge from their barbarism to the broad-day-light of true liberty. T. B.

For the Bedford Gazette.

A YANKEE FOR JUDGE.

The radicals could not find among the native Pennsylvanians, a man who came fully up to their standard for Supreme Judge, and they nominated H. W. Williams, of Allegheny, who hails from Connecticut, a man who comes to us fully imbued with all the fanatical, rabid notions of government and society, that prevail among the Yankees.

A violent radical, he is opposed to the admission of Representatives from the Southern States to the Congress of the nation, and is, therefore, a Disunionist, and in any opinion he may be called upon to deliver, would treat the excluded States as subject provinces.

A furious temperance fanatic, he would gladly introduce into Pennsylvania, by judicial decision, a complete prohibition of intoxicating beverages, with the full experience of the past that prohibition leads to increased indulgence in intoxicating drinks, to smuggling, perjury, contraband manufacture and general demoralization.

A Sunday law pietist, he would prohibit cheap conveyance in our cities for the poor people desiring to attend church, while the rich can spend the day, riding about in gilded coaches.

Such is the candidate presented by the Radicals for Supreme Judge; an imported Hartford convention, blue-law, witch-burning, free love, Connecticut Yankee. KEYSTONE.

—A man who was a "war Democrat," writes us that he "went in for saving the Union, but has come out, not only with a destroyed Union, but with one-half of the States annihilated, and reduced to 'military districts.' Perhaps I am served right for allowing myself to train in the company of Lincoln, Phillips, and Seward." This, we doubt not, is the feeling of every "war Democrat" in the country.—New York Day-Book.

—The radicals claim that Jeff Davis has triumphed at last, and it does look like it. He undertook to take the Southern States out of the Union, and did not quite succeed. The Radicals took up the work, and completed it. The Southern States are out of the Union. Davis and the Radicals have triumphed at last.

A YOUNG LADY returning to her country home, after a sojourn of a few months in the city, was hardly recognized by her friends. In place of a coarse, rustic, flushed face, she had a soft ruby complexion of almost marble smoothness, and instead of twenty three she really appeared but eighteen. Upon inquiry as to the cause of so great a change, she plainly told them that she used the CIRCASSIAN BALM, and considered it an invaluable acquisition to any Lady's toilet. By its use any Lady or Gentleman can improve their personal appearance an hundred fold. It is simple in its combination, as Nature herself is simple, yet unsurpassed in its efficacy in drawing impurities from, also healing, cleansing and beautifying the skin and complexion. By its direct action on the cuticle it draws from it all its impurities, kindly healing the same, and leaving the surface as Nature intended it should be, clear, soft, smooth and beautiful. THE FOURTH AT SCHELLSBURG.—The Ninety-First anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, was celebrated in appropriate style, at Schellsburg. A large crowd from the surrounding country was in attendance. In the forenoon the Bedford Democratic Brass Band paraded the strets, playing patriotic airs. Mr. Burton Edsall, of the Exchange Hotel, served up a magnificent entertainment which was partaken of by upwards of one hundred guests. The dinner was gotten up under the superintendence of Mrs. Edsall, assisted by Mrs. Snively, late of the "Exchange," and reflected great credit upon the culinary education of those ladies. It was truly one of the best dinners we ever sat down to. Dinner having been discussed, the crowd assembled in front of the "Exchange," a large stand having been erected there for the accommodation of of the speakers. After several beautiful airs by the Band, the meeting was called to order by the appointment of CHARLES DANNAKER Esq., as President, Emanuel Statler, Esq., Vice President, Walter Garlinger and ——— ———, Secretaries. On motion of John S. Schell, Esq., the Declaration of Independence was then read by Mr. J. H. Whetstone. After the reading of the Declaration was concluded, B. F. Meyers, Esq., of Bedford, was introduced as the orator of the occasion, and proceeded to deliver a patriotic address, which was well received by the audience. On motion it was unanimously resolved that a copy of Mr Meyers' address be solicited for publication in the county papers, and a committee was appointed for that purpose. M. A. Points, Esq., was then called upon, and in some happily expressed remarks, referred to the appropriate and pleasing manner in which the celebration had been conducted, after which the meeting adjourned, all apparently satisfied that they had once more beheld an old fashioned Fourth of July.

PISCATORIAL.—A number of young "bloods" from this place (including our junior partner) went on a fishing excursion to the Alleghany mountains, one day last week. They had great luck. Two of the party lost themselves in the woods and were compelled to camp out. Their food was—not locusts and wild honey. They are supposed to have subsisted principally on birch-bark and dried fish-worms. The remainder of the party did all the damage they could to their clothes and the pantries of the mountain people. The whole set returned some days afterward, considerably the worse for the wear. If they got any trout, the senior saw none of them, and, therefore, further this deponent saith not.

AGRICULTURAL MEETING.—A meeting of the Bedford County Agricultural Society, was held in the Court House, on Saturday, June 29, Hon. S. L. Russell, President, in the chair, and B. F. Meyers, secretary pro tem. On motion it was resolved to hold a County Fair on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, the Second, Third and Fourth days of October, next. After the transaction of some other business the meeting adjourned.

THE FOURTH AT SAXTON.—There was a grand and glorious time at Saxton on the Fourth. The Odd Fellows had a large parade, making a beautiful display, and Dr. C. N. Hickok, of Bedford, delivered an eloquent and interesting address. We have not been furnished the particulars of the proceedings.

FOR FRUIT CANS.—Take rosin, eight ounces; gum shellac, two ounces; beeswax, one-half ounce, and if you desire it colored, English vermillion, one and a half ounces. Melt the rosin, and stir in the vermillion, if used. Then add the shellac slowly, and afterwards the beeswax. This will make quite a quantity, and needs only to be melted to be ready for use at any time.

HORSE AGE.—It is said that after a horse is nine years old a wrinkle comes on the eyelid at the upper corner of the lower lid, and every year thereafter he has one well-defined wrinkle for each year over nine. If, for instance, a horse has three wrinkles, he is twelve; if four, he is thirteen, &c.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS.—Ex-Chief Justice Lewis and family, Hon. J. F. Spangler, of York, and Col. Walter Barrett, of Clearfield, are at present sojourning at Bedford Springs.

FINE STRAWBERRIES.—We were the recipient, some days ago, of a lot of fine strawberries, raised by Capt. T. H. Lyons, of this place. The Captain has our thanks for his kindness.

REV. DR. GEISENHAINER, of Bethlehem, Pa., will preach in the Lutheran church, on next Lord's day morning, at 10½ o'clock.

EDS. GAZETTE:—One of the April numbers of your paper, contains an article in which the writer denounces the action of the Board of Directors of Bloody Run, upon the question of rent for School House, for private Schools. The writer's statements are very plausible to all unacquainted with the facts; but, as we claim as much intelligence for our Board, as can be found among the petitioner and his friends, we shall venture a reply.

Your columns were offered us at the time of the publication of "Petitioner's" article, yet we preferred waiting for the advertised Report of the Board for that school year. We believed, then, that the Board was not disregarding the interests of the Borough, in order to favor the teacher, and if those who were then disposed to censure and threaten will read the report, they must conclude that their demands had been met by the Board, and, that our confidence was not misplaced.

It is very uncharitable, to denounce the action of any one, without positive assurance that such denunciations are merited. School Boards have very often the most perplexing questions presented to them, and without an acquaintance with all the facts, their decisions cannot be fully understood.

But, nearly all localities contain a class of citizens who are eternally clamoring about the schools. They claim to favor public schools, yet are never pleased with the official conduct of their Directors, and will charge, accuse and lampoon, in a most unchristian manner, without asking a single question as to the causes of the action of their respective Boards.

Directors receive but few thanks for the performance of their duties, at best; yet, when citizens are disposed to circulate remonstrances in opposition to their decision, and publish charges in the county papers that have not a shadow of truth in them, how futile seem the anxieties and labors gratuitously bestowed by them, for the benefit of the young, when a few demagogues will do their utmost to defeat every good measure. Could those persons be induced to exhibit as much interest in the intellectual welfare of their children, as they at all times show for their horses or poultry, their own and their children's appearance and enjoyments, we should have a different state of affairs. The comfort of children in the school rooms, is of no consequence to them. The encouragement that the teacher should have to enable him to discharge his duties so as to benefit all, is never given by visits to the school, or by words or looks elsewhere. But on the slightest intimation of neglect or mistake on the part of those who do their utmost for the advancement of education, no effort seems too great that will magnify and give publicity, to that for which generosity should demand forbearance. The charge against the Board of this Borough, was exceedingly ungenerous, for they not only exercised the most scrupulous care of the property of the public, but did the best they could for the children of the dissatisfied.

The rent question is answered in the Report in a satisfactory manner. We think it should satisfy the most exacting, for it is there shown that they received an amount not less than $60 for the use of the house for 6 months. Will "Petitioner" read that report and relieve his credulity? We hope he may be relieved, and hereafter give his influence in favor of every measure that will tend to advance the interest of our schools, until they stand first in the County. CITIZEN.

Bloody Run, June 24, 1867.

We gather the following particulars from a Philadelphia contemporary in regard to the River-side Institute, the advertisement of which appears in our columns:—

This Institute promises to be one of the grandest and noblest institutions of its kind ever organized. In order that money may be speedily raised for the maintenance of the Home, the Washington Library Company has organized and adopted a plan which will meet with a hearty approval and earnest support from all. This Company knowing from the past that to raise funds by appeals to the charitable public is slow and uncertain work, oftentimes resulting in total failure, have adopted their present method for accomplishing this much-desired result. Their plan is to issue stock at one dollar per share, each share of stock entitling the holder thereof to one finely-executed steel plate engraving, which at retail could not be purchased for this sum. In addition to this, presents consisting of several thousand dollars in greenbacks, real estate, horses, jewelry, silver ware, sewing machines, pianos, melodeons, and hundreds of other valuable articles amounting in the aggregate to $300,000, will also be bestowed among the stockholders. Every stockholder not only receives his engraving at the time of purchase, but will also receive a present at the distribution, there being no exceptions. The Company are enabled to act thus liberally from the fact, that making their purchases of engravings, and of the presents to be given away, in such enormously large quantities, the cost per single article is greatly reduced to what would be the price were the purchase of the same made at retail. Besides this all the presents, such as real estate, etc,, have been handed over to the Company by the original owners at their lowest market value. On this account are the Company enabled to offer such great inducements to those who would interest themselves and aid in alleviating the miseries and distress of the hundreds and thousands of poor and forsaken orphans who are now daily seen in the lanes and thoroughfares of our large cities.

Should it prove so it will entitle the author to the heartfelt thanks of many a sufferer.

As a husband and father, he was kind and loving and indulgent; as neighbor, friend and citizen, he was sincere, courteous, and useful; and as a Christian, he was humble and pious. But a short time previous to his sickness, he was elected and ordained a ruling elder in the congregation in which he worshiped. His last sickness, though severe and protracted, he bore with entire resignation to the will of God. Death, to him, had no sting and the grave will have no victory, for he obtained the victory thro' our Lord Jesus Christ, who opened the tomb and became the sure pledge of our resurrection. In his death, the community in which he lived, his pastor and his church have lost a sincere friend.

(late of New York city,)
DENTIST,
Would respectfully inform his numerous friends and the public generally, that he has located permanently

BEAUTIFUL ARTIFICIAL TEETH,

☞ Temporary sets inserted if desired.
☞ All operations warranted.
TEETH EXTRACTED, without pain, by the use of NITROUS OXIDE or LAUGHING GAS.
This is NO HUMBUG, but a positive fact.

As the Gas administered by Dr. Porter is prepared in accordance with the purifying method of Dr. Strong, of New Haven, Ct., and Prof. Siliman (late Professor of Chemistry in Yale College), he has no hesitation in asserting that it is attended with no danger whatever.
Persons desiring the services of a Dentist, would promote their own interest by calling upon Dr. Porter, as he is determined to spare no effort to please the most fastidious. Dr. Porter's mode of operating will at all times be of the mildest character, avoiding the infliction of the slightest unnecessary pain, and carefully adapted to the age, constitution, health and nervous condition of the patient.
☞ Special attention is invited to Dr. Porter's scientific method of preserving decayed and aching teeth. H. VIRGIL PORTER,

J. W. BRADLEY'S
CELEBRATED PATENT
DUPLEX ELLIPTIC (OR DOUBLE SPRING)
SKIRT.
The wonderful flexibility and great comfort and pleasure to any lady wearing the DUPLEX ELLIPTIC SKIRT will be experienced particularly in crowded Assemblies, Operas, Carriages, Railroad Cars, Church Pews, Arm Chairs, for Promenade and House Dress, as the Skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as a silk or muslin dress, an invaluable quality in crinoline, not found in any single spring Skirt.
A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort, and great convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Steel Spring Skirt for a single day, will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For Children, Misses and Young Ladies they are superior to all others.
They will not bend or break like the single spring, but will preserve their perfect and graceful shape when three or four ordinary Skirts will have been thrown aside as useless. The Hoops are covered with double and twisted thread, and the bottom rods are not only double springs, but twice (or double) covered: preventing them from wearing out when dragging down stoops, stairs, &c.
The Duplex Elliptic is a great favorite with all ladies and is universally recommended by the Fashion Magazines as the STANDARD SKIRT of the Fashionable World!
To enjoy the following inestimable advantages in crinoline, viz. superior quality, perfect manufacture, stylish shape and finish, flexibility, durability, comfort and economy, inquire for
J. W. BRADLEY'S DUPLEX ELLIPTIC, or Double Spring Skirt, and be sure you get the genuine article.
CAUTION.—To guard against imposition, be particular to notice that Skirts offered as "DUPLEX" have the red ink stamp, viz: "J W. Bradley's Duplex Elliptic Steel Springs," upon the waistband—☞none others are genuine. Also notice that every Hoop will admit a pin being passed through the centre, thus revealing the two (or double) springs braided together therein, which is the secret of their flexibility and strength, and a combination not to be found in any other Skirt.
For sale in all stores where first class Skirts are sold throughout the United States and elsewhere. Manufactured by the sole owners of the patent,

GRAND CONCERTS IN AID OF THE MASONIC HALL AND ASYLUM FUND.—The object of these Concerts is to raise funds to build a Masonic Hall in the city of New York, commensurate with the wants of the fraternity, and to erect an Asylum for decayed Masons and the indigent and infirm widows of Masons and their orphans. A large fund has been collected for this purpose, but more is needed, which it is believed will be generously and promptly given by the charitable public, and those immediately interested in the welfare of the Order.
The Management take great pleasure in announcing that their Sixth and last Grand Musical Entertainment will take place at Jones' Wood, on TUESDAY, JULY 30th, commencing at 1 o'clock, P. M., and will be immediately followed by the Grand Distribution of Presents.
OFFICE OF THE GRAND MASTER OF MASONS, OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, New York, January 10, 1867.
BRO. G. W. HOLMES—My Dear Sir—Yours of the 9th instant has been received. In reply I can only state that any enterprise which may be honorably and conscientiously conducted, in aid of the Masonic Hall and Asylum Fund of the State of New York, will receive not only my unqualified approbation, but my zealous co-operation. That your enterprise will be conducted with fidelity to your promises I have no doubt, judging from the references which you have given. While I say this, I desire still to declare to you that any effort, no matter how sacred may be the end sought to be achieved, that leads to any violation of the laws of the State, should not be permitted. Let those laws be held in strict respect, a blessing will surely follow, and you will receive thanks of thousands. Thanking you for your kind remembrance of the widows and orphans of our craft, I am
Truly and fraternally yours,
ROBERT D. HOLMES, G. Master.

ASTROLOGY.
The World Astonished
AT THE WONDERFUL REVELATIONS MADE BY THE GREAT ASTROLOGIST, MADAME H. A. PERRIGO.
She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catasrophes, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, &c., have become dependent. She brings together those separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives your name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the malefic stars that overcome or predominate in the configuration—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation fee, with likeness and all desired information, $1. Parties living at a distance can consult the Madame by mail with equal safety and satisfaction to themselves, as if in person. A full and explicit chart, written out, with all inquiries answered and likeness enclosed, sent by mail on receipt of price above mentioned. The strictest secresy will be maintained, and all correspondence returned or destroyed. References of the highest order furnished those desiring them. Write plainly the day of the month and year in which you were born, enclosing a small lock of hair.

REPARATOR CAPILLI.
Throw away your false frizzes, your switches, your wig—
Destructive of comfort, and not worth a fig;
Come aged, come youthful, come ugly and fair,
And rejoice in your own luxuriant hair.
REPARATOR CAPILLI
For restoring hair upon bald heads (from whatever cause it may have fallen out) and forcing a growth of hair upon the face, it has no equal. It will force the beard to grow upon the smoothest face in from five to eight weeks, or hair upon bald heads in from two to three months. A few ignorant practitioners have asserted that there is nothing that will force or hasten the growth of the hair or beard. Their assertions are false, as thousands of living witnesses (from their own experience) can bear witness. But many will say how are we to distinguish the genuine from the spurious? It certainly is difficult, as nine-tenths of the different preparations advertised for the hair and beard are entirely worthless, and you may have already thrown away large amounts in their purchase. To such we would say, try the Reparator Capilli; it will cost you nothing unless it fully comes up to our representations. If your druggist does not keep it, send us one dollar and we will forward it, postpaid, together with a receipt for the money, which will be returned you on application, provided entire satisfaction is not given.
